"Positive camp culture is cultivated when all camp staff and campers are physically safe, feel emotionally secure, are respected, and are expected to contribute regularly to the community. Every camper and staff member deserves to feel powerful, challenged, and have the opportunities to master diverse skills." - Tom Rosenberg, CEO of the American Camping Association

In the summer of 2022, 98% of campers said they felt safe to be themselves and 97% of campers said their relationship with God was strengthened at Lutherdale. Every camper that steps onto Lutherdale's site, deserves to be welcomed, accepted, known, and celebrated as a beloved child of God. This phrase is something Lutherdale staff know by heart, and take to heart.

Join us for a summer where campers feel welcomed, accepted, known, and celebrated.
